FUN ACTING GAMES FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY MAKE A MONSTER

Players are going to create a giant monster puppet!

One player starts with a sound and a simple repeating gesture that expresses their part of a monster.

Then another player can join in when they have another sound and gesture that connects with the first player's. Now they are two parts of the monster!

Each player joins in with a new noise and gesture and connects to the others in some way until all players are involved.

An audience member can be a director and ask the monster to move around (to the left, to the right, front, and back), go in slow motion, or move fast. All the parts of the monster have to try to stay and move together.

This exercise develops creativity, concentration, group cooperation and is lots of fun
