Park Ridge Golf Course - By creating an 18-hole golf course on the closed Lantana Landfill, Palm Beach County and the Solid Waste Authority turned a useless piece of property into a popular community asset. The golf course, which was opened to the public in March of 2007, has received engineering and environmental awards,

Palm Beach County Golf is proud to participate in the Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary Program for golf courses (ACSP), and is committed to environmental stewardship. All five golf facilities have been certified. In addition to being great courses to play, these courses, through careful management, protect our drinking water, improve the water quality of our lakes, and support a variety of plants and wildlife. Osprey Point Golf Course has been designated as a certified Audubon International Classic Sanctuary. This is the first designation of this kind in the state of Florida, the second in the United States and the fifth in the world.

Supervisor of Elections. State law requires voters to notify the Supervisor of Elections of any change in their residence address. A change of address can be submitted in person at any elections office or by completing a Florida voter registration application and mailing it to the elections office; by telephone; or by electronic means; the elector can notify the supervisor by providing a signed written notice, which must include the elector's date of birth. Mail it to: Supervisor of Elections, P.O. Box 22309, WPB, 33416. A card with a new precinct number and polling location will be returned by mail. Name changes or party changes can be made by completing a Florida voter registration form, or by written notification that contains the voter's signature, and date of birth or voter registration number. By law, a person must vote in the precinct where he/she lives on Election Day. Information on early voting is posted on the website one month prior to state and federal elections. Florida is a closed primary state. Only voters who are registered members of the political parties may vote for their respective party's candidates in a primary election. To register to vote, a person must be a U.S. citizen, 18 years old on or before Election Day, and a legal resident of Florida. A person may preregister on or after that person's 16th birthday. (Note: If applicant has been convicted of a felony, his/her civil rights must be restored. If declared mentally incompetent, competency must be restored). Proof of residency is not required to register to vote. The registration books close 29 days before each election. A Florida voter registration application is available by mail by calling the elections office. Voter registration applications are available at most city halls, public assistance agencies, county and municipal libraries, driver license offices and at all Supervisor of Elections offices.

An Overview of County Government

Charter Government

The voter-approved Palm Beach County Home Rule Charter became effective in 1985. True home rule gives the Board of County Commissioners the ability to create, through a local public hearing ordinance procedure, local laws that are not in conflict with or specifically prohibited by state general law or the Florida Constitution. This process is done without having to go to the Florida Legislature to request special legislation to create these laws.

Legislative Branch

Palm Beach County is governed by the seven-member Board of County Commissioners (BCC). Board members are elected to staggered four-year terms by registered voters in the district in which the commissioners reside. Commissioners are sworn into office two weeks after being elected in the November general election and may not serve more than two consecutive four-year terms. The BCC elects a mayor to preside over commission meetings and serve as the ceremonial head of Palm Beach County government. A vice mayor is also selected to assume these duties in the absence of the mayor.

Your Commission

The Palm Beach County Charter and Chapter 125.01 of the Florida Statutes establish the specific duties and powers of the Board of County Commissioners. The BCC adopts ordinances (local laws) and resolutions to establish policies and programs aimed at protecting the health, safety and general welfare of Palm Beach County residents. The BCC works to resolve major problems facing local government and guides growth and development throughout the county to be consistent with the public interest. Following are some of the specific duties undertaken by the BCC:

- Provide law enforcement and fire-rescue protection and disaster relief services;
- Construct and maintain county-owned buildings, roads and bridges, and utility systems;
- Provide programs for housing, community redevelopment, land conservation, flood and beach erosion control, and air-pollution control;
- Adopt and enforce building and housing codes and regulations;
- Prepare, enforce and periodically review the Palm Beach County Comprehensive Plan for the development of unincorporated areas of the county;
- Construct and operate cultural, recreational and library facilities and programs.

In addition, the Board of County Commissioners may enter into agreements with other governmental agencies for joint performance of duties.

Commission Meetings

The BCC usually meets each month in the Jane M. Thompson Memorial Chambers located on the sixth floor of the Robert Weisman Palm Beach County Governmental Center, 301 North Olive Avenue, West Palm Beach. Workshops usually are held on the fourth Tuesday of each month. The BCC also sits as the Zoning Board, which usually meets on the fourth Thursday of the month. Additionally, the BCC serves as the Solid Waste Authority Governing Board, the Child Care Facilities Board, and the Environmental Control Hearing Board.

Public Comment

Citizens may offer comments on regular agenda items, items listed for public hearings and during Matters by the Public, which is usually held the first meeting of the month in the afternoon. During Matters by the Public, citizens are welcome to address any issues under the jurisdiction of the board.

Anyone wishing to speak is requested to complete a comment card (available in the chambers) and give it to the Public Affairs assistant at the staff table to ensure their turn at the appropriate time. There is generally a three-minute time limit, but the mayor may reduce the allotted time if there are many people wishing to speak.

BCC meetings are business meetings and as such the board retains the right to limit discussion on any issue. Citizens should verify meeting schedules in advance by contacting the agenda coordinator at 355-3229 or by going to pbcgov.com and clicking on Agenda.

Administrative Branch

The BCC appoints a county administrator who is assigned the executive responsibilities and powers to implement the board's policies. Under the county administrator's direction, more than 30 departments, provide residents with needed services and programs.

Advisory Boards, Committees and Councils

The BCC appoints residents to voluntarily serve on various advisory boards, commissions, committees and councils. Some of these advisory panels are required by state law; others are formed to address special needs and to help solve challenging issues. The Directory of Boards and Committees available at pbcgov.com provides details about each panel along with contact information.

Funding County Government

Palm Beach County's financial operations are budgeted on a fiscal year that begins October 1. The Board of County Commissioners approves the operating budget and sets the property tax (millage) rate. Prior to the beginning of each fiscal year, a proposed budget is submitted by the county administrator, and two public hearings are held to obtain comments and feedback on the planned spending package. Once this budget review process is completed, the board advertises its intent to adopt the final budget along with a resolution to provide county government with operating and capital funds. Throughout the year, the BCC may review and amend the budget using this review process.

Accountability and Transparency

The Office of Inspector General (OIG) provides independent oversight of county operations and is authorized to conduct audits and investigations of and receive full and unrestricted access to the records of all county offices. The OIG promotes accountability, integrity and efficiency in county government by detecting misconduct involving abuse, corruption, fraud, waste and mismanagement by elected and appointed county officials and employees, county agencies, vendors, contractors, and other parties doing business with Palm Beach County and/or receiving county funds. The inspector general shall be notified in writing prior to any meeting of a selection committee where any matter relating to the procurement of goods or services by the county is to be discussed.

Ethics

The independent five-member Commission on Ethics (COE) receives and investigates complaints and is charged with enforcement of the Palm Beach County Code of Ethics, lobbyist registration and postemployment ordinances. The panel, chosen by various civic, educational and professional organizations within Palm Beach County, issues advisory opinions to county officials, employees and others subject to its jurisdiction, including county vendors, lobbyists and their employers. The COE seeks to foster integrity in public services and prevent conflicts between private interests and public duties. This is accomplished through ongoing educational programs and community outreach, offering clear and timely advice, and by enforcing conflict of interest and financial disclosure laws in a fair and impartial manner. In doing so, the COE is guided by the principles of fairness, clarity, and common sense. In November 2010, a majority of voters in each of the county's 38 municipalities opted to have their locally elected municipal officials and employees fall under the jurisdiction of the Office of Inspector General and the Commission on Ethics.

Constitutional Officers/Judiciary

Constitutional officers and members of the Judiciary (judges) are the only Palm

Beach County government officials other than county commissioners who are elected by voters. There are seven constitutional officers: the Clerk & Comptroller, Property Appraiser, Public Defender, Sheriff, State Attorney, Supervisor of Elections and Tax Collector. Each is elected to serve four-year terms, but unlike county commissioners, constitutional officers are elected countywide (at large) and are not subject to term limits. Constitutional officers establish the budgets for their offices independent of the operating budget set by the Board of County Commissioners. Although they operate independently, constitutional officers work in cooperation with the BCC in order to serve the public efficiently and cost effectively.

Independent Taxing Districts

There are a number of independent entities and special taxing districts in Palm Beach County whose assessments may appear on your tax bill. The Board of County Commissioners has no jurisdiction over these entities or their budgets. Examples include the Palm Beach County School District, the South Florida Water Management District, the Children's Services Council, the Palm Beach County Health Care District, the Library District, the Port of Palm Beach District, and various improvement, water control, drainage and inlet districts. Local municipal governments also are empowered to impose their own ad valorem taxes over which the BCC has no jurisdiction.

Entertainment and Leisure

Palm Beach County offers a multitude of cultural attractions such as classical concerts, live theater, opera and ballet. Venues include the Delray Beach Playhouse, Watson B. Duncan III Theater, Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center, Ballet Palm Beach, and the Palm Beach Opera. The Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts in West Palm Beach provides some of the finest professional cultural productions anywhere in South Florida, while the iTHINK Financial Amphitheatre (formerly Coral Sky) draws big-name pop, rock and country performers.

Major League spring training and minor league baseball games are played at Roger Dean Stadium in Jupiter and the Ballpark of the Palm Beaches in West Palm Beach. Four Major League teams train in Palm Beach County: the Miami Marlins and St. Louis Cardinals in Jupiter and the Houston Astros and Washington Nationals in West Palm Beach.

Hurricane Myths & FAQ

1. It will never happen here! That's probably what people in New Orleans, Homestead, and the Keys have said. But the entire coast from Texas to Maine is vulnerable to hurricanes!
2. My windows are ready. I have them taped. Taping windows to prevent breakage or limit the amount of shattering is not an effective form of window protection and can create airborne daggers of glass should the windows break. Window coverings made of 5/8-inch plywood or metal and fastened correctly can improve the chances of having your home survive the impact of a storm.
3. I'm going to open the windows on the side opposite the wind so the air pressure doesn't explode my house. The best way to keep your home safe is to keep the wind OUT! Studies have shown that opening a window can increase the amount of damage done by wind. When a hurricane threatens, keep your home sealed up tight.
4. Why should I prepare my house? When the big one comes, it's going to be destroyed anyway. While a hurricane's winds can destroy even the most solid structures, taking some basic precautions can significantly reduce damage from a storm. Pictures of areas devastated by hurricanes will often show one house standing while a neighbor's lies in ruins. The difference? The owners of the house in good shape took some basic precautions to safeguard their property. Shuttering windows, bracing garage and entry doors and bringing in yard items can mean the difference between destruction and minor damage.
5. The storm surge is only 9 feet at the most and my condo is on an upper floor, so I'm riding the storm out. Vertical evacuation, or escaping the rising storm surge by going to the upper stories of a building, is an option. However, wind speeds increase the higher you go, so you may be evacuating into a more dangerous place. If so, the high winds and water could make getting help to you nearly impossible after the storm passes.

6. When I get the evacuation order, I'm leaving. There is no high ground here, and it will be much safer inland. Even with Palm Beach County's long coastline, not all near-coastal areas are subject to evacuation. In fact, in some locations, beach residents need travel no more than one mile to get to safe areas. Traveling a great distance to escape the effects of the storm may actually lead you into danger if you become stranded in evacuating traffic when the storm nears. Also, the further you go to evacuate, the longer it will take you to get there and to your home after the storm.
 7. Are there sufficient shelters for people if we're threatened by a Category 4 or 5 storm? Yes. Studies have shown that less than 10 percent of the people in evacuation zones go to local shelters. In Palm Beach County, we have shelter space for at least 55,000 people who live in an evacuation zone. If people do not live in evacuation zones or mobile/manufactured homes or substandard housing, they do not need to go to shelters and should make plans to either leave the county or stay home or with friends.
 8. Should I evacuate during a Category 4 or 5 storm? Mandatory evacuations are issued for people living along the coastal area and barrier islands subject to sea water surge; mobile/ manufactured homes regardless of location; and persons living in substandard housing. We encourage people to "run from water and hide from wind".

Evacuation is not required or recommended for persons living away from the coast or for persons living in structurally sound homes. Stay home and stay off the roads. That's why we encourage people to have a sufficient Emergency Supply Kit. If you plan to leave the county, you must leave early, at least three to five days before a storm's projected landfall.

9. What if I can't drive and need transportation out of the county? If you live in an evacuation zone, mobile home, or substandard housing and do not have transportation, you need to register with Palm Tran Connection for the Special Transportation Assistance Program by calling 561-649-9848 or 877-870-9849 (toll-free).

You will be placed on a list and when evacuation orders are issued, you will be contacted and provided transportation to the nearest county shelter. We do not provide transportation out of the county or for those not meeting the above criteria.

10. Is Palm Beach County prepared? Yes. Our hurricane response and recovery plans are well seasoned and our staff is prepared. The county and the cities have developed a well-coordinated response to provide public safety and health services to those areas affected by a hurricane.

Florida Power and Light representatives are at the Emergency Operations Center (EOC) and the county coordinates power restoration with them. State and federal response agency representatives will be housed at the EOC before, during, and after the storm to provide assistance to us. We have a dedicated staff whose sole purpose is to save lives and protect property after a storm and get us back to full operation as soon as possible.

What To Bring To A Hurricane Shelter

A hurricane evacuation shelter is a refuge of last resort; a place to go if you can't stay at home or with a relative, friend, or co-worker or nearby hotel. While shelters are set up in schools, the timing of their opening and locations can change due to the circumstances of the storm. Not all shelters are opened for every storm. Monitor local media for current shelter openings and locations.

Palm Beach County and Palm Beach County Schools manage public shelters. Shelters provide simple meals and beverages; if you have special dietary needs or want snacks, you must bring your own. Shelters provide basic first aid only; cots and medical care are not provided. You can't bring weapons, illegal drugs, or alcohol into shelters, but here is what you should bring:

- Three-day supply of water per person (i.e., three-gallons per person)
- Prescription medicines and emergency medications; you must be able to take all medications by yourself
- Special-diet foods (e.g., snacks and juices for those with dietary restrictions or allergies)
- Basic snacks
- Bedding materials (e.g., pillows, blankets, sleeping bags, cots, air mattresses, etc.) – cots will not be provided
- Comfortable clothing (at least two changes)
- Collapsible/folding beach chair or camp chair
- Baby food, formula, bottles, diapers, blankets, & clothes
- Flashlight, extra batteries
- Cellphone, with a battery-operated charger
- Radio with extra batteries and headphones
- Important documents (e.g., identification, medical records, insurance information, deeds or leases, birth certificates and utility bills showing your home address) – these documents are not required but will be helpful after an emergency
- Photocopies of valuable documents
- Eyeglasses, hearing aids, dentures
- Toiletries and personal hygiene items (e.g., washcloth and/or towelettes, small towel, soap, toothbrush, toothpaste, sanitary napkins, tampons, paper towels, toilet paper, etc.)
- Quiet games, books, playing cards, favorite toys, or other items for entertainment
- Special items for family members who are elderly or disabled
- Chargers/cables for any electronic devices you bring with you – functional electric outlets are limited in shelters

You may want to put these supplies in a water tight storage bin(s) or large duffel bag for ease of movement.

Pets are not allowed in evacuation shelters (except service animals); pet shelters may be available (visit www.ReadyPBC.com for more information).

Smart Supplies

Week 9

- Batteries for camping lantern
- Battery powered camping lantern
- Portable camp stove or grill
- Video or disposable camera

Before hurricane season, make a complete inventory of your valuables and personal property. Store important documents and valuables in a safe dry place. If you evacuate, take them with you if you can. Take a photo inventory before the storm and then take photos of any damage after the storm and then take photos of any damage after the storm for your insurance adjuster. Be sure that you are properly insured and understand all of the conditions of your policy prior to a disaster. This will save you from unfortunate surprises during recovery.

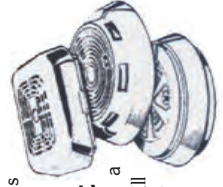

Everyday Safety

Week 11

- ABC certified fire extinguisher
- Smoke detector with battery
- Carbon monoxide detector

Everyday Supplies

Disasters can happen without warning. It is a good idea to have disaster supplies on hand year-round. Make sure you always have a working fire extinguisher, smoke detectors, and a carbon monoxide detector. These items save lives and reduce property damage. To reduce risk of fire, DO NOT USE CANDLES. Never use a generator or charcoal grill inside your home or inside your garage.

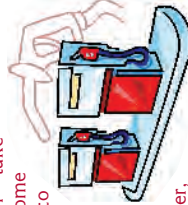

Helpful Supplies

Week 10

- Games/activities for kids/family
- Extra radio batteries
- Local and state road maps
- Gas cans

Have Patience

Damage after a hurricane is unpredictable. It can take several days, and in some cases, several weeks to restore power. Crews will begin work as soon as they can to clear roads and restore services. Be patient. Plan for loss of power, phones, water, and cable television. Have activities on hand for your family. Remember that everyone in the community is experiencing the same disaster. DO NOT HOARD FUEL. Work together and help your neighbor.
