PRIME TIME WOULD LOVE TO VISIT YOUR PROGRAM

To offer an exciting opportunity for youth ages 12–18 to join a connected community of teens who are stepping up, speaking out and creating change together.

Invite us to your program and empower your middle and high school youth to step up, speak out and lead. When young people have a voice, their ideas can inspire meaningful action. Prime Time will offer an opportunity to participate in a Youth Advisory Council where teens become valuable partners in designing, planning and implementing programs that reflect their interests and needs. The result is stronger youth engagement and increased attendance and participation during school hours.

Youth will be given the opportunity to connect with peers, strengthen their leadership skills and bring youth-led projects to life. Alongside supportive adult allies, they will gain the confidence, experience and resources to create positive change in their programs and communities.

Benefits include:

- On-site support from dedicated youth engagement specialists
- Career exploration, workforce readiness and internship opportunities
- Practical workshops that strengthen communication, self-confidence and professionalism while supporting social and academic success
- Integrated family engagement that builds stronger connections among programs, youth and families
- Opportunities to earn community service hours, stipends and other compensation
